XML Import / Export

XML is a file format that allows data to be transported between certain applications.

XML Tasks Import

This will read in an xml file in a variety of formats and import the tasks to your todo list. Currently we support XML files from the following services: Toodledo, Voo2do, and Vitalist. If your XML file has more than 200 tasks, our import script may run out of memory and display a warning page. If this happens, you will need to edit your XML file by hand and import it in batches of 200 or fewer tasks per batch. To get another service added to this list, please send us a sample file and a description of the service.
